PacIOOS Oceanographic Technician

Seize the unique opportunity to join our small but dedicated and innovative team

- The PacIOOS Oceanographic Technician is an exciting, full-time, entry-level position, responsible to provide technical and logistical support for the
- PacIOOS wave buoy program. PacIOOS stakeholders and users heavily rely on our network of 15 wave buoys across the U.S. Pacific Islands for timely, reliable, and accurate wave and ocean information to support their decision-making. With millions of data requests and website views, the wave buoy program is one of PacIOOS' high-profile programs, serving hundreds of thousands of users across the Pacific and worldwide.
- This position will participate in operational fieldwork in the Hawaiian Islands and throughout the Pacific Islands to install and recover wave buoys, and assist with the fabrication, maintenance, assembly, and refurbishment of buoys, moorings, anchor systems, and associated equipment. The successful candidate will also operate and help maintain the 27ft research vessel, and help coordinate supply inventories and shipping logistics.

We are looking for a detail-oriented, self-motivated, creative, and flexible team member with excellent communication and interpersonal skills. One to three years of experience with oceanographic fieldwork and engineering are necessary, as well as strong on- and in-water skills and knowledge of safe and effective small boat operations. Please use the link on the next page to view all of the job qualifications. Salary is commensurate with experience.

At the Pacific Islands Ocean Observing System (PacIOOS) we believe that coastal and ocean information helps save lives and protects livelihoods and resources. Our mission is to empower ocean users and stakeholders throughout the Pacific Islands by providing accurate and reliable coastal and ocean information, tools, and services that are easy to access and use.

Based within the School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa, PacIOOS is one of 11 regional associations of the U.S. Integrated Ocean Observing System (IOOS®). Check out our website at www.pacioos.org to learn more about our program and the data, tools, and services we provide.
